

The poster is framed by a collage of autumn-themed illustrations. At the top, there are clusters of red berries and various leaves in shades of orange, yellow, and red. On the left side, a branch with small pink and orange leaves extends downwards. On the right side, there are more large red and orange leaves, some with green winged seeds (samaras) attached. At the bottom, there are more autumn leaves, including some green ones, and a few brown acorns.
